The UAE has long prioritized education within its development plans, with the aim of creating a diverse and competitive economy based on improvements in the efficiency and quality of educational output. This book examines the various challenges of educational advancement on which success over the coming decades depends. Such challenges include diversifying the student population, schools, and curricula; improving the quality of the school environment; overcoming the limitations of traditional methods of education; creating effective approaches to development, evaluation, and assessment; improving educational guidance for students; and achieving greater family involvement in the educational process in an attempt to promote high levels of educational attainment, self-confidence, and a sense of citizenship. By analyzing the present state and future challenges to education in the UAE, this book is essential for all those interested in the development of education in the Gulf, and the wider Middle East.

With more than one quarter of the population of the UAE under the age 14, the future of school education in this Emirate is of enormous importance. Essentials of School Education in the United Arab Emirates examines various vital issues at play in the educational sector, including the role of national policies and legislation in developing the education system and the relationship between Emirati society and the education process. It also explores domestic and international advances in the philosophy and practice of education, as well as the fundamentals of teacher training and student development, identifying necessary reforms with respect to the role of technology in education and efforts to maintain high educational standards. By highlighting the importance of research and development related to education in the UAE, this book is essential for all those interested in the development of the Gulf, and the wider Middle East.

This book presents an up-to-date account of current English-language English teaching and General Studies practices in the UAE. The chapters, written by leading language teacher educators, feature theoretical and empirical aspects of teaching, learning, assessment as well as related research. Throughout the book, the link between theory and practice is highlighted and exemplified. This reader-friendly book is suitable for undergraduate and graduate students, teachers, researchers and administrators of English language and general studies programs in the UAE and beyond who wish to keep abreast of recent developments in the field.

Most experts would agree that creating a first-class, modern education system is essential to achieve comprehensive national development. To this end, the United Arab Emirates has taken initiatives and launched projects that focus on improving the education system in the country, linking them to development, as per international standards, and to the needs of the labor market. As the UAE seeks to implement its ambitious development plans, all concerned parties must focus on enabling the education system to realize these goals. To help serve the UAE's national education and development objectives, the Emirates Center for Strategic Studies and Research (ECSSR) held its 6th Annual Education Conference, titled "Education and Development: Toward a Modern Education System in the UAE," on October 27-28, 2015. Based on the conference's proceedings, this book identifies and analyzes the many challenges linking education to development, including the resistance among students to enroll in vocational education and training courses; building better links between the private sector and higher education and research institutions; and ensuring that the education system meets the needs of the labor market. The scholarly ideas presented within are followed by practical recommendations to develop a modern education system in the UAE.

The IT education during the formative years has become a major priority for the UAE. This is underlined by the success of the Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid IT Education Project (ITEP), which was launched in 2000. As well as installing computer labs in all participating schools, and creating a comprehensive cutting-edge curriculum, ITEP also provides an invaluable online educational resource at www.itep.ae. ITEP now provides courses in 40 high schools in the UAE (20 in Dubai, 20 in Abu Dhabi) and over 13,000 students pass through the programme every year. ITEP ' s trainee pupils achieved 97 per cent success rate in courses in the 2005/06 academic year. [...]
